BASF Nutrition & Health provides a comprehensive product and service portfolio for the human and animal nutrition, pharmaceutical solutions and flavor & fragrance industries. It is our priority to comply with all applicable national and international legislations. Therefore, BASF Nutrition & Health has implemented a Food<sup>1)</sup> Safety Management System based on applicable legislation and according to FSSC 22000 and/or FAMI-QS requirements.

BASF Nutrition & Health and its employees are committed to take all necessary steps for preventing Food Fraud and Food Adulteration and to maintain integrity of the BASF Code of Conduct<sup>2)</sup>. BASF Nutrition & Health sites have performed a detailed risk assessment covering all points from raw materials (including packaging materials) and the relevant supplier selection, manufacturing and filling of the final products, transport and storage regarding Food Fraud and Food Defense. Furthermore, overall aspects like site security, asset management, personnel and IT aspects are included in the risk assessment.

The assessment under Food Fraud aspects covers the identification of vulnerable critical points and defines, if appropriate, the relevant mitigation measurements. The assessment under Food Defense considers the reduction of the likelihood of an attack and mitigates the risks and consequences as far as possible.

(1) Food is covering human and animal food
